++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry, but cloudy and murky for many.

Today:
Low cloud affecting much of England and Wales with some fog in places, mainly the east. Brighter for parts of Scotland and west Wales with some sunny spells, though a few fog patches lingering all day.

Tonight:
Low cloud and fog persisting across England and Wales. Clear spells for parts of Scotland, west Wales and southwest England where a frost is possible in places.

Sunday:
Low cloud and fog persisting for many, though with some sunny spells for Scotland and west Wales. Some light rain and drizzle arriving in the far northeast later.

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Most places staying dry but with more sunshine by day than of late, especially across the south. Cold with overnight frosts. Perhaps some rain into the far southwest late Wednesday.
